MERCHANTS FACE UNION PROBLEM

Council to Get Report Urging Fire Department Expansion

CHANGES ARE SUGGESTED BY BOARD

Underwriters Claim S. A. Companies Need More Man Power

Proposed increases in Santa Ana's fire fighting forces will be considered by the city council in the near future. The Journal learned today from an authoritative source.

Filed today with City Clerk Ed Vegely, the report of National Board of Fire Underwriters, made public exclusively by The Journal yesterday, will be referred to the city council, it was learned.

What action the city council will take in regard to the report was not stated, but it was likely that the proposed increases and other recommendations of the national board will be referred to the finance committee of the council for consideration.

Report Critical

The report said that in the Santa Ana fire department, companies are seriously undermanned, with only fair response of call men and off duty members. It was stated that the combined pumping capacity, ladder service and hose supply is inadequate.

Other statements made in the report said: "Two stations lack hose drying facilities. Discipline fair. Drills incomplete; fire methods limited in value by deficiency in equipment. Response to alarms well arranged. No building inspection by company officers. Record, fair."

Changes Made

Regarding fire fighting facilities, the report said: "Water supply works fairly adequate and reliable; distribution system weak; quantities for engine supply good in principal mercantile district; elsewhere, ample to considerably deficient. Fire department seriously undermanned, inadequately equipped and not well trained. Fire alarm system inadequate in residential districts and not reliable."

Many of the improvements suggested in the report already are being carried out, it was stated, which has been noted for low fire insurance rates, based on fire losses in the past.

GROVE IS SOLD FOR $30,000

Twenty acres of full-bearing Valencia orange grove property changed hands today.

Two Los Angeles men, D. J. Caudill and S. Dams, purchased 20 acres belonging to Claude Wheeler at a reported price of $30,000.

The deal was for cash, and was handled by Joseph P. Smith, prominent Santa Ana realtor.

The grove was originally part of the old Stewart place off McKinley avenue in the Capistrano district. Caudill and Dams bought the property for an investment, it was announced.

Smith said today that he has had a number of inquiries from out of town people who are interested in purchasing citrus groves, showing that Orange county is maintaining its fine reputation for growing Valencia oranges.

Economy Duke's Motto Now

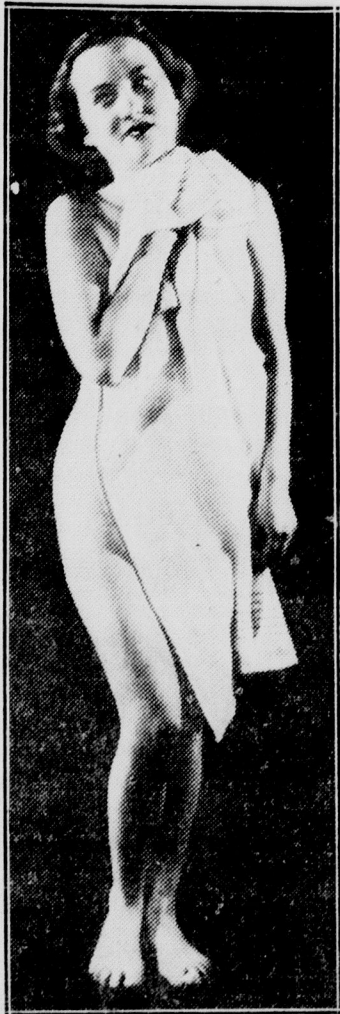

ST. WOLFGANG, Austria. (AP)—The Duke of Windsor, seeking the role of a "forgotten man," settled a domestic conflict in his new home today by banishing a "Tyrol" cat for an assault on his new Cairn terrier pup, "Schnooki."

That was one of his first acts as he settled down in Appenbach Villa for a month's stay, and having quieted that situation, he took steps to assure himself greater privacy.

He sent an aide to a nearby village to learn how many visitors were there. Then he instructed police to clear loiterers from the road passing the villa.

The duke also emitted today upon a more frugal mode of life—

ACCUSE WIFE OF PERJURY

Murder Trial Witness Jailed For Aiding Husband Killer

For an asserted attempt to shield the man who shot and killed her husband, Salvatore Lopez, in 1929, Mrs. Marie Castro today was arrested in a prior court on perjury charges.

Superior Judge James L. Allen, in whose court Jesus Esquivel is being tried on charges of murdering Lopez, ordered the arrest on motion of Deputy District Attorney James L. Davis.

The jury was dismissed from the courtroom before the action.

Perjury charges were based on conflicts between Mrs. Castro's testimony in court, to the effect that Lopez had a gun, and her previous statement to Davis that Lopez did not have a gun.

Esquivel, whose attentions to Mrs. Castro, then Mrs. Lopez, were responsible for the shooting under the prosecution interpretation of the case, has contended that he shot Lopez after Lopez fired a pistol at him.

"I was lying when I told you he didn't have a gun," Mrs. Castro said. She admitted she wanted to get even with her mother-in-law "for dragging my name into this."

"I'll say anything," she exclaimed. Under questioning by Defense Attorney N. D. Meyer, she said she meant that she now is telling the truth, but previously had been shielding her husband.

The former British monarch, his personal secretary, Sir Godfrey Thomas, and his adjutants went early to bed last night.

Austrian detectives who are guarding him, as well as the Dukes' major domo and cook, visited the local inn where they proudly displayed cigar cases and stickpins which Edward presented before leaving Enzesfeld.

It was then that the chief servant computed the prospective household costs here as compared with Edward's expenses at the Enzesfeld chateau.

Brady Resumes Charge Of S. F. Graft Inquiry

JURY VOTES CONFIDENCE IN HIM

Webb Sees No Need for Intervention; Judge, Prosecutor Clash

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Backed by a rising vote of confidence and some applause by members of the grand jury, District Attorney Matthew Brady resumed full charge of San Francisco's police graft investigation today.

His leadership was in jeopardy for several days as a result of disclosures that Peter McDonough, bail bond company head assailed in the Edwin N. Atherton report, had held his note for $1170 for more than 20 years.

Majority Favor Brady

Last night the grand jury told State Attorney General U. S. Webb it still had confidence in the district attorney. A rising vote showed a majority favoring the district attorney.

Webb then told the grand jury he did not believe there was need for his intervention.

Assistant District Attorney Leslie C. Gillen said that the announcement Saturday by Foreman J. J. Gartland saying the jury had asked the attorney general to take charge was not an accurate statement of its position.

Gartland Explains

Gartland said his statement was his understanding of what the jury wanted.

Presiding Superior Judge George Steiger told the jury and Webb that if Saturday's statement was not a correct interpretation of the jury's views regarding Brady, it was because of a misunderstanding.

District Attorney Brady and Judge Steiger clashed verbally in a corridor outside the jury rooms. Brady's portly body quivered as he shook a finger at Steiger.

Steiger Calms Him

"You issued an untruthful statement when you made your announcement at Saturday's session of the grand jury, declaring the attorney general would be asked to supersede me," he shouted.

"You caused me to be put in headlines," Steiger smiled.

"Now, now, Matt," he answered, softly. "I'm only the presiding judge. I'm not the foreman of the grand jury."

In his report on police vice, Investigator Atherton charged that McDonough's firm was the "fountainhead" of San Francisco vice.

CHEAP HOUSES GO BEGGING

Real estate at bargain prices went begging today when the board of supervisors offered at auction 11 parcels of property taken over by the welfare department in past years.

Six parcels were unsold either because there were no bids or because bids were too low to consider.

Francisco Gonzales bought a lot with two small houses near Stanton for $150; J. Lamar Walker bought a half lot on West Fifth, Santa Ana, for $100; Arcadio Pena bought a house and lot in Delhi for $85.

Bidding became more spirited at the last, with Gustav Koehler paying $850 for a lot and four-room house at 1428 West Second, Santa Ana, and H. M. King paying $525 for eight lots, a six-room house, pump house, and other equipment at Buena Park.

Has Husbands for Day and Night

RADIO TRUCE NAB ESCAPED PRISONER

City Proposes Use of Man Who Eluded Local Deputy Will Face Theft Charges

Santa Ana city officials and the board of supervisors reached a truce today in their dispute over a separate police radio for the city police department.

They came out of a huddle with a tentative plan for use of the county police radio through a remote control system at the city police station.

Blocked By Protest

An application by Santa Ana for a station of low power on the same wave length as KGHX, the county station, has been held up in Washington by a protest filed by Chairman Willard Smith of the board of supervisors.

As a compromise, city officials presented a plan allowing Santa Ana to use the station by remote control when it is not being used by the sheriff for his own broadcasts or for messages for other cities.

Cites Other Towns

Supervisors said they would consider and act on the proposal this afternoon. If permission is not granted by the county, the city will proceed to push its application for a separate station. City Attorney Lew W. Blodgett indicated.

He pointed out that Los Angeles, Whittier and Beverly Hills all operate separate stations on the same wave length without trouble. In either case, Santa Ana could not operate when the county station is on the air.

Santa Ana's plan would make possible two-way communication between the police station and patrol cars.

Escaped by Ruse

The prisoner was taken to Los Angeles last Oct. 21 on a superior court order which directed Bailiff Frank Dawson to escort Marr while the prisoner attempted to arrange restitution for some of his alleged bunco victims. At the South Pasadena home of his mother-in-law, Marr asked permission to go into the bathroom and was loosed from his handcuffs. He escaped through a window.

His original arrest was in Michigan, where Deputy Sheriff R. R. Lutes was successful in a long series of court hearings in obtaining his extradition. A month later he escaped.

FIGHT REVEALS L. A. SPY PLOT

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Police disclosed today that after arresting two Japanese following a knife fight they broke into a locked chamber of an Alameda street rooming house and found a radio set, maps of Hawaiian fortifications and plans of the Los Angeles water system.

One of the Japanese, badly wounded in the stomach, was taken to the county hospital. Officers said he was in such a condition that he was unable to talk, beyond saying his name is T. Onishi.

The other Japanese identified himself as Buichiri Abo.

"We are convinced that Abo is connected with a foreign spy organization and was in the business of accumulating and disposing of military information," said Detective Captain Bert Wallis.

S. A. SCHOOLS WILL TEACH SAFETY

Traffic Council Member Reveals Plan for New Program

Santa Ana High school's curriculum soon will include a subject never before taught in the school.

It will be a definite, prescribed course in safe driving. Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Henderson, member of the traffic safety commission, revealed details of the plan today.

The subject, he said, will be introduced in the high school as soon as the state issues a new series of books on safety in driving. The issue has been scheduled for some time, and is expected to be out in the near future.

Henderson now has on his desk four books, published by a national automobile association, which are used in some schools for teaching traffic laws and safety measures to students. Henderson pointed out that it would be more economical to use the state text books, when they are issued.

Police Commissioner Plummer Bruns, ex-officio member of the traffic safety council, was enthusiastic about the new program when he discussed it at the first meeting of the commission yesterday afternoon. He expressed the opinion that it would fill a long-felt need. Elmer Heidt, chairman of the commission, also is enthusiastic about the new plan.

Heidt pointed out today that the safety drive launched by Police Chief Floyd W. Howard has had definite, probable results in reducing accidents, and that the drive has minimized accident claims in this city. Claim frequency and loss ratio have diminished.

Henderson has been asked to bring the school safety books he now has to the next meeting of the safety commission, which is set for April 13. At that time the program is expected to be more thoroughly discussed.

Sergeant B. A. Hershey of the Santa Ana traffic squad also has been invited to appear before the safety commission to discuss the safety program and traffic problems.

Court Praised for Reversal

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Professor Erwin N. Griswold of Harvard Law school told the senate judiciary committee today the supreme court should be commended for its "courage" in reversing itself on minimum wage legislation.

The 32-year-old educator was questioned at length by the committee members after he had testified in opposition to the Roosevelt court bill and suggested an alternative to a constitutional amendment to limit the terms of supreme court justices to 18 years.

Raymond B. Stevens of New Hampshire resigned today as a member of the tariff commission to "take an active part" in behalf of the President's court reorganization program.

Myers Estate Is Valued at $65,000

Leaving a $65,000 estate to his wife and eight children, the will of Irvin H. Myers, Orange, was filed for probate in the superior court here today. Two sons, Arthur J. Myers and Ralph Milton Myers, both of Ontario, asked appointment as executors.

NAB MATTSON SUSPECT

Federal Officers Quiz Man Nabbed in Small New Mexico Town

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (AP)—Sheriff Fred White, who arrested and held Vern Charlton of Washington here in connection with the kidnap-slaying of Charles Mattson, said today "We expect that this thing will clear up by tonight."

The Quay county peace officer, who has worked closely with Alex Street, veteran department of justice operative from El Paso, would not amplify the statement.

It was taken to mean, however, that developments outside this eastern New Mexico town were being awaited.

Street, who locked himself in his hotel room last night and refused to answer any calls, was equally as taciturn today. He only smiled and changed the subject when asked whether other operatives were expected to arrive by airplane today and what possible disposition would be made of the man whom Sheriff White insists resembles an artist's drawing of the suspect "to the dimple in his chin."

Sheriff White said when Charlton, who claims he left Tacoma, Wash., January 7, was shown the department of justice drawing of the Mattson suspect he said: "It looks like me, doesn't it?"

CHRYSLER PACT IS 'IN SIGHT'

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Conferees seeking settlement of strikes which have kept Chrysler automobile plants idle for more than three weeks assembled today for their seventh day of negotiations as informed sources reported an agreement was "in sight."

One report was that an agreement might be delayed, and that the conference might even recess, until John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chairman, returned here from New York, probably Thursday.

The conferees recessed shortly after 1 o'clock for luncheon, planning to reconvene at 3 o'clock.

RETAIL BODY TO CONFER ON PLAN

Proposed Clerks' Unit Subject for Chamber Session Wednesday

Santa Ana merchants will turn their attention to proposed unionization of retail store employees tomorrow.

The Journal learned today that the matter of organizing retail store clerks here into a union will be discussed by the retail board of the chamber of commerce when the merchants meet tomorrow morning.

Move Started

Members of the retail division have heard reports for some time that an organizer has been working in Santa Ana, seeking to organize the clerks into a branch of an international union.

Yesterday Norris Stone, president of the Orange County Central Labor council, said a movement is under way to form an Orange county clerks' union. The matter will come before the labor council at a meeting next Monday night, he said.

Stone said today that reports to the effect that the proposed Orange county union, if formed, would have a setup similar to the union being organized in Los Angeles county, are not necessarily correct.

Make Own Rules

He said that the Orange county union would be in the same international as that of Los Angeles, but that the Orange county group would have its own setup in regard to wages, hours and rules of employment.

It also was announced today that the butchers are almost 100 per cent organized here, and that last night a meeting was held at which the charter was installed. There are about 40 members.

OFFICERS SHOT BY MURDERER

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—An investigation of the slaying of an aged man was climaxed today by a gun battle in which two state troopers were wounded and John Ireland, 40, was arrested and charged with first degree murder.

Six state troopers were called to the home of the victim, Edward H. Ireland, 75, after the Rev. Michael J. Dwyer, 76-year-old Catholic priest, heard shots and notified officers.

Inspector Edward O. Hageman of the state police said John Ireland, former patient at an insane asylum, had fatally shot his father, Edward, who was down stairs and wounded two troopers at the Ireland home at Latham, a suburb.

Troopers P. J. Fitzpatrick and C. J. Konior, who went to investigate the shooting at the Ireland home, were taken to a Troy hospital. Fitzpatrick received 75 shots in the shoulder and one of Konior's eyes was penetrated.

Orange county and municipal officials and the public at large are to be given the opportunity to see the official Orange county preview of the new and dramatic motion picture "Empire of the West" at a special showing to be given at the auditorium of the Santa Ana High school at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

This was the announcement made today by Col. S. H. Finley, Santa Ana's director on the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water district of Southern California.

Others Cooperate "Empire of the West" is a spectacular and authentic motion picture presentation of the gigantic Metropolitan aqueduct from the Colorado river now being built by the Metropolitan Water district of which Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton are member cities.

BUILDING HITS HIGH MARK

Building in Santa Ana was off to a good start today for another million-dollar year, as the first quarter neared its close with more than $300,000 in permits issued.

March so far has chalked up almost $100,000 in permits, with $97,340 in building authorized up to today. Permits for today and tomorrow were expected to bring the total above the $100,000 mark.

April will get off to a fast start with filing of applications for two building jobs totaling more than $84,000, assuming the city of better than $100,000 for that month by the time other permits are filed.

Jules Markel, Santa Ana contractor, will file applications early next week for construction permits on the $54,000 First Presbyterian church and the $30,000 Brown and Wagner mortuary, plans for which were being checked over today by Building Inspector Harold Rasmussen.

The number of individual building jobs is expected this year to be higher than in 1936. This year, far 324 permits have been issued, as compared with 322 permits for the whole of last year's $1,164,175 building.

FARMERS HEAR LABOR REPORT

The agricultural labor situation is quieter now than it was at the same time last year.

This report was given by Stuart Strathman, representative of growers, at a meeting of the La Habra farm center last night, attended by a crowd of 125 farm bureau members.

Strathman expressed the hope that the growers will have no trouble with agricultural labor this year, but said it is yet a little early to predict definitely what the situation will be.

Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg spoke on the program, saying that the extension service is advising all orchardists having damaged lemon or avocado trees to refrain from pruning until June or July. Meetings of growers will be called in the early summer to advise on best practices in caring for frozen trees.

Answering a question, Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory said that benefit payments in solid conservation practices are the same for all crops in any county, and that no county is paying more to the growers than another for the same type of soil practices.

State Colleges Seek More Funds

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—The seven state colleges today asked the senate finance committee for an increase of $340,000 over the amount the governor's $446,000-000 budget allows for their support.

The request was made by Frank W. Thomas of Fresno State, who spoke for the state college group. He said the budget as presented by the governor calls for $192 per capita student and the state colleges need a per capita support of $212.

SEEK TO LURE MONEY FOR BUILDING

The chamber of commerce moved today to bring capital to Santa Ana for the construction of badly needed apartment houses.

Yesterday afternoon the board of directors appointed a committee composed of Secretary Howard J. Wood, Clarence Hoiles and C. A. Warren to meet with two Los Angeles capitalists who are interested in investing money in apartment houses and apartment hotels.

TOURIST INFLUX

Completion of a housing survey by the chamber revealed that there is a lack of good apartment houses for this city. It is the opinion of the chamber that many more persons would stay in this city if they could find suitable quarters.

Secretary Wood read a report from the All-Year club which showed that between Sept. 1, 1936, and Feb. 28, 1937, inclusive, 550,371 out of state tourists arrived in the Southland by motor, an increase of 152,843, or 38.4 per cent over the same period last winter.

Public carriers likewise reported sizeable increases. This winter 40.4 per cent more visitors were registered in 1937. Hotels and apartments have experienced capacity occupancy, the report said.

Freight Rates

The board asked Secretary Wood to contact H. T. Brashear, traffic expert of the Los Angeles chamber, regarding any possible move this city might make to secure more favorable status in regard to coastwise traffic. Santa Ana has several prospects for industries, it was pointed out, and the city desires to be in as favorable a position in regard to freight rates as other cities in the Southland.

The board received a letter from Secretary Harry May of the Fullerton chamber, asking the board to help in a protest against a boulevard stop on the 101 highway at Manchester. Secretary Wood was delegated to the job of checking up on the matter.

BUDGET BATTLE IN ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Hope that $9,000,000 may be cut from Governor Merriam's $446,000,000 budget to operate state government for the next two years, belief the measure should be tabled until a real budget is presented and that the assembly committee studying it should be disbanded rang in the ears of legislators today.

Behind locked doors, with only the press present with the understanding "no names would be named," the assembly ways and means committee went through its first executive session in study of the proposed budget.

Wrangling marked the Meeting. Eventually, they decided to take up each individual budget item separately, and in rapid succession disposed of the first 26 of the 190 budget items.

Every request for an addition to the figure budgeted by the governor was refused, without exception.

It was determined, however, that upward salary adjustments, included in many of the higher figures sought by department heads, would be "taken care of" in special appropriation bills.

Crash Followed By Forgery Charge

Douglas S. Grove, alias Clarence Bowman, 24, Redondo Beach, found that an auto accident is costly.

Not only did he have to have his car repaired after a collision at Brookhurst and Euclid avenues Saturday night, but he found himself under arrest on two forgery charges when he went to get the auto.

Thomas B. Frost, special investigator for the district attorney's office in San Diego, told Santa Ana police last night that he arrested Bowman on the forgery charges from San Diego township received a $35,000 fee from the Chicago Title and Trust Company while sitting on the bench.

A special house committee which has investigated real estate bondholders' protective committee, said Representative O'Malley (D-Wis.) knew about the fee.

Find New Clew in Triple Murder

NEW YORK, (AP)—Discovery of a memorandum book containing 100 names in the Beekman Hill apartment where 20-year-old artist's model Veronica (Ronnie) Gedeon, her mother, and a roomer were slain Easter Sunday provided the only clew today to New York's latest murder mystery.

While detectives still questioned George (Frenchy) Gueret, unemployed chauffeur, Lieut. Martin Owens announced that police will question every person listed in the book.

LOYALISTS WIN ON 3 FRONTS

MADRID, (AP)—Government soldiers pushed back insurgents or withstood attacks on three widely-separated fronts today.

They loosened the besiegers' grip on Madrid itself, government commanders said, by driving a fighting force part way behind the insurgents in the University City and Casa de Campo regions, on the northwestern and western outskirts of the city, repulsing a series of insurgent assaults and improving their own positions in the Aravaca district.

On the upper Guadalupe front, northeast of Madrid, government soldiers, pushing along the left side of the Aragon highway, drove the insurgents from front lines.

In the south, government troops pressed forward against insurgents at Alcaracejos, north of Cordoba, and along the Pozoblanco-Villaharta road, in the same district.

WIDESPREAD REBEL EXECUTIONS REPORTED BAYONNE, France—Spanish Frontiers, (AP)—Widespread executions were reported here today to have been ordered throughout insurgent-held Spain, to suppress bitter dissatisfaction with Italian influences.

Several scores of persons have been shot as the result of abortive plots, so strong has been the feeling against foreign influence in General Francisco Franco's armies, reports reaching here despite strict censorship, said.

The information stated the importation of Italian soldiers never had been popular in the Spanish army but had been accepted as necessary to crush the Madrid government.

FRANCO'S FORCES EXECUTING REVOLTERS GIBRALTAR, (AP)—Mass executions in extreme southern Spain—including those of 50 conspirators against Gen. Francisco Franco's regime and 200 government prisoners shot in reprisals—were reported today from Algeciras.

A new appeal for aid to undernourished school children came to the board of supervisors today from P. T. A. officials.

Mrs. W. T. Kirvin of Garden Grove, state P. T. A. chairman of child hygiene, appealed to the board to consider and act upon the report given a week ago by a committee which found numbers of school children underfed.

She was backed up by Mrs. Oliver Wickersham of Orange, Mrs. James Givens of Santa Ana and Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger of Tustin.

"Food control and things of that sort are important, but so are children," she said. "The children of today are the citizens of tomorrow."

Under the program outlined last week by the committee, cost was estimated at $1500 per month to serve 10-cent lunches to about 1000 children in the county.

Chairman Willard Smith of the board of supervisors said he felt the board is willing to go ahead with "some kind of suitable program."

MARKEL WILL BUILD NEW MORTUARY

Brown & Wagner Award Contract for $30,000 Structure Here

Jules Markel, prominent local contractor, has awarded the contract for construction of the new Brown and Wagner funeral home.

The new mortuary will cost approximately $30,000 and will be erected at the southwest corner of Seventeenth and Sycamore streets.

Construction work will start in about three weeks, it was announced today by Attorney Otto Jacobs, who is handling the business details for Mrs. Emma M. McCullough, owner of the property where the new mortuary will be erected.

The actual construction work will start as soon as the residence now located on the property is moved off, it was announced. It is expected that it will take about 90 days to finish the construction job.

The mortuary will be of colonial type, and is expected to be one of the most attractive buildings of its kind in the Southland. After a public hearing on the matter, the city council, on recommendation of the city planning commission, granted permission for rezoning the property to permit the construction of a mortuary.

At the recommendation of the county highway department, a Red Cross first aid station has been established by Anaheim chapter of the Red Cross at the Stanton postoffice, near the station crossing, which has been the scene of many accidents in the past, it was announced today.

With the assistance of Mrs. Rutledge and Mrs. Davis, and of Mrs. W. R. Ward, first aid chairman for Anaheim chapter, a class of 20 has been signed up for the course.

Sergeant James McWilliams of the Santa Ana police department, a authorized first aid instructor, will teach the course, and Mrs. Laura R. Warren, executive secretary of the Orange County Red Cross, were present at the organization meeting Monday night at the Rutledge home. The first class meeting will be Monday night, April 5, at 7 o'clock in the Savana school. Those wishing to join are urged to be present at that time. The class is open to any adults.

Forum to Discuss Europe's Troubles

The gathering storm clouds between Italy and Great Britain will be the subject for discussion at the news review at the Unitarian church Wednesday evening at 7:30.

What is the reason for the intense and bitter antagonism toward England which has broken out in recent utterances of Mussolini? Why has the British press had to be curbed in its vitriolic attacks within the past week? Why does Italy threaten to boycott the coming coronation? Will both the present British ministry? Is England really leaning toward the Loyalists in the present Spanish conflict? Is it all smoke screen, and if so what lies behind it?

These questions will be probed at the regular current events discussion, which is led this week by the Rev. Julia Budlong, pastor. The public is invited to attend.

Weather Bureau Fund Here Urged

Insisting on additional funds for weather forecasting in the citrus areas of California, Congressman Harry Sheppard of this district promised today to lead a delegation before the house sub-committee on agricultural appropriations.

The budget bureau already having passed on the general weather bureau appropriation, no money could be obtained for that item in the weather department.

The huge investment of our citrus growers, Sheppard said, "must have increased consideration from our government weather bureau. The failure of an appropriation of $5000 or $10,000 for modern forecasting facilities could easily result in several hundred thousand dollar loss due to frost."

SEEK SPOT FOR HOG RANCHES

A movement to liberalize the proposed county hog ranch ordinance was under way today.

Jules Markel, chairman of the county planning commission, which asked supervisors several weeks ago to adopt regulations to restrict hog ranches and garbage feeding, said today he will ask the Farm bureau to confer with county representatives to work out details.

On Markel's committee are Louis Bushard, member of the planning commission; Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, and W. F. Menton, district attorney.

In its present form the proposed ordinance would bar hog ranches if their principal purpose is garbage disposal, or if property owners within a half mile objected.

Supervisor Harry D. Riley and others believe there is some place in the county for hog ranches, and his committee hope to decide, with Farm bureau aid, just where that is.

Dr. Sutherland has suggested to the planning commission that hog ranches be allowed as garbage disposal plants where they are required for community sanitation, or in places where hog ranchers have contracts to dispose of city garbage.

Supervisor Harry D. Riley and others believe there is some place in the county for hog ranches, and his committee hope to decide, with Farm bureau aid, just where that is.

NEWSMEN LAUD HOSPITAL

Orange county newspaper publishers were entertained last night at a county hospital dinner and tour, after which they expressed themselves as being very favorably impressed with the institution.

They inspected all departments of the hospital, and particular attention was devoted to the tuberculosis ward and the quarters for nurses afflicted with infantile paralysis.

Supervisor Harry D. Riley told the group the hospital is rated as a class A institution, this being the highest rating attainable. On the medical staff are nine of the 10 physicians in Orange county who hold the highest degrees obtainable, he said. He explained that medical schools throughout the nation send interns to the hospital for their fifth year of training.

Last year the hospital handled 32,000 patients, an increase of five per cent over the previous year. Cost of operation was about $155,000. Meals were served at a cost of 10.6 cents each, including food, cooking and serving expense. Food cost six cents per meal, Riley said.

Riley explained that the institution is the only hospital in the county with tuberculosis, psychopathic and contagious disease wards.

Dr. Harry Zaiser, hospital superintendent, Dr. Wiley of the hospital staff, and Maintenance Foreman Butts conducted the news men on the hospital tour.

When Is Trailer Camping Ground?

A trailer in a yard doesn't constitute a camping ground—unless somebody lives in it.

Police arrived at that conclusion after thumbing through city ordinances yesterday, following reports that a trailer with a "for sale" sign on it had been parked for some time in a yard in the 1200 block on North Van Ness street.

They decided nothing could be done about it unless somebody moved into the trailer—in which case they could force them to move it away.

SCARES THIEVES
 William Mang, North Euclid avenue rancher, fired a shotgun into the air yesterday to frighten away two potential chicken thieves, he told the sheriff's office.

POLICE REPORTS

Neighbors got worried when an automobile stood in front of 2139 Greenleaf street for two weeks. Officers talked with the owner, who promised to move the car.

A boy with the hunting instinct, shooting a BB gun at birds on South Ross street yesterday, promised he'd stop, after a brief conference with Assistant Police Chief Harry Fink.

A prowl wearing khaki trousers, reported at 1308 North Broadway last night, had wandered on before police arrived.

Crowing roosters at 1328 Cypress street were reported by neighbors last night.

Pat Cord and C. S. Gross warned the owners.

L. M. Peterson, 35-year-old salesman of 335 East Pine street, was jailed last night on vagrancy charges.

Herbert Hill, 2415 West Fifth street, asked officers to check on the license number of a car in which a man, he said, drove into his establishment, bought a quantity of feed, and drove away without paying for his purchase.

Youth Accused of Five Burglaries

Assertedly confessing to five Orange county burglaries during the past few months, Bill Proctor, 19-year-old CCC worker, was in the county jail today.

Proctor was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs G. F. McKelvey and Steve Duhart when they found the name "Proctor" on a slip of paper dropped at the scene of a burglary at the Horace W. Skinner ranch near Anaheim Sunday.

The officers said they found a quantity of loot at the boy's parents' residence at Katella and Brookhurst roads, and then arrested him at the Vista CCC camp, where he had been working.

Buster to Address Turkey Breeders

Melvin W. Buster, formerly poultry specialist in California and well-known in Orange county now employed in the agricultural adjustment administration, will meet with interested turkey breeders and hatcherymen of Southern California on Saturday, April 3, at 10 a. m., in the farm advisor's office, Federal building, Pomona. The purpose of this meeting is to develop from growers' ideas a standard breeding plan for the turkey industry in California and the United States. Ross E. Crane, assistant farm advisor, urges interested growers to attend the meeting.

Moxie Confident He'll Box Champ

By SCOTTY RESTON

Fight night has been shifted from Thursday to Friday at the Orange County Athletic club for two reasons: (1) better shows will be result because, with the Fleet in on week-ends, many Navy boxers can be obtained here; and (2) parents who like to bring their children to the sport will appreciate the transfer from a school night.

Those fighting Indians from the Sherman Institute near Riverside will headline this week's card. The redskins will send Rico Martinez against Maxie Moore in the main event.

Tae "you win here and I'll win there" boys are keeping their pro tennis series remarkably even. After appearing in 38 exhibitions throughout the country, Ellsworth Vines and Fred Perry each has won 19 matches!

Tonight will be your last chance to see a good basketball game until next December. All-star quintets from the Community church and Commercial leagues hook up at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock, and the lineups are studied with some of the best experts and junior collegians in the county.

Genial Gene Hitt, manager of the First National Bank softball entry last summer, may bolt the Santa Ana league to manage a club in the County loop, but Manager Ken Miller of the Elks has definitely decided to retain a franchise in the City league.

New managers coming into the fold are Walt Jordan of Montgomery Ward's and Bob Wimbush of Motor Fuels. Among the old guard will be Larry Owens of the Grand Central Market, Lester Slaback of the M. E. South church and Harold Finley of the Commercial National Bank.

Touching all bases: Officials of Portland's Pacific Coast league baseball club rate the Fullerton park the best the Beavers have ever trained in, and are planning to return in '38 provided Fullerton is willing. Clarence (Ace) Parker gained all-America rating in football at Duke university last fall, but he prefers baseball to a pro grid career. . . . and he's making the grade with the Philadelphia Athletics. . . . Burleigh Grimes of the Brooklyn Dodgers is the first pitcher to lead a National league club in 15 years, but catcher-managers are common. Among them are Steve O'Neill of the Cleveland Indians, Connie Mack of the Philadelphia A's, Mackey Cochran of the Detroit Tigers and Jim Wilson of the Philadelphia Phillies.

McMillan Renews Indiana Contract

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Z. G. Cleveland, athletic director at Indiana university, announced today that A. N. (Bo) McMillan had signed a new 10-year contract as head football coach at Indiana. McMillan now is completing his third year at the local school.

Fights Last Night

DETROIT.—Maxie Rosenbloom, 187, New York, outpointed Roscoe Toles, 196, Detroit, (10).

BERLIN. (AP)—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight contender, arrived home today from the United States where he vainly sought to swing a deal whereby he would fight Champion Jimmy Braddock here for the title this summer.

Apparently disgusted by the muddled boxing situation in the United States, Schmeling said he planned to "sit back and let things ripen" before he returns to New York April 22. Recent developments, he said, made him feel sure the Berlin bout still was a possibility, or, failing that, that he still would get his chance at the championship in New York June 3.

WOODCLIFF, N. J. (AP)—Even Champion James J. Braddock was lost today in the confusion of the heavyweight situation.

Facing court action for his avowed intention of ignoring a contract to fight Max Schmeling, the champion clings somewhat pathetically to the outmoded idea that a fighter should fight.

"I don't know anything about this law business," he said, "but I'd sorta like to fight again."

He gets up early, jogs around the park in this little cliff town overlooking the Hudson, goes to New York and works out at a gymnasium, visits his manager, Joe Gould.

Yet he is credited with all sorts of fabulous things. "Braddock dodges Schmeling," reads one headline. "Braddock threatens to quit Chicago bout," screams another. "Braddock going to Berlin," announces a third.

Braddock himself does none of these things. Gould does them all. Yesterday, however, the champion found one job his manager could not do. Madison Square Garden was calling Jimmy into federal court to show why he should not be forced to meet Schmeling in New York, June 3, before meeting Joe Louis in Chicago on June 22. The champion, who has fought Schmeling, the champion's chances are not good. And even if the court refuses an injunction against the Louis fight, the champion's problems still are unsolved.

Recent developments in Chicago indicate that somebody out that way is not anxious to have the Louis-Braddock fight and yet there always is the possibility of a suit if Gould does not go through with the Chicago bout.

The only thing everybody agrees on is that Braddock deserves a better break than he's getting.

All-Orange League Five Selected

TUSTIN PREPS LAND THREE ON TEAM

Del Jones of Valencia and Ted Develbiss of Anaheim Honored

An all-Orange league mythical basketball team that could hold its own with any prep collection in Southern California was named by Santa Ana sports editors today.

The selections were based on the consensus of coaches who honored their preps on all-major and all-minor division teams last week.

Tustin's Southern California champions rightfully dominated the all-league team with the Francis brothers—Slinging Sam and Henry Martinez and Bob Schildmeyer, Orange; Walter Kelly, Newport Harbor; and Chauncey Woodrume, Anaheim.

Honorable mention was awarded Walt and Vic Linker, Tustin; Del Jones, Valencia; and Ted Develbiss, Anaheim. Jones would team with Monroy at guard. Develbiss would alternate at center and forward with Sam Francis.

The other two positions went to Dell Jones, Valencia's versatile athlete, and Ted Develbiss, Anaheim. Jones would team with Monroy at guard. Develbiss would alternate at center and forward with Sam Francis.

LENGLET HEADS OLYMPIC CARD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Foreign heavyweights occupy the fistic stage here tonight when Giant Andre Lenglet of France meets Alberto Lovell of the Argentine at Olympic auditorium.

Lenglet, who twice knocked out Phil Brubaker in San Francisco, was favored to win over the Argentine negro, who won the heavyweight amateur title here in the 1932 Olympic Games, and scored a four-round knockout last week in San Diego over the trial horse, Moose Irwin.

Matchmaker Suey Welch of the Olympic said the winner's next match depended on the outcome of the April 13 bout between Lee Range and Bob Nestell, regarded as California's two outstanding heavyweight prospects.

Tonight's main event was carded for 10 rounds.

Vines Trounced by Perry in 3 Sets

MILWAUKEE. (AP)—Fred Perry defeated Ellsworth Vines 3-6, 10-8, 6-4 here tonight to even their professional tennis series at 19 matches apiece before a crowd of 3,000.

George Lott defeated Bruce Barnes, 6-2, 6-2, in a preliminary match. Perry and Vines trimmed Lott and Barnes in the doubles, 10-8, 6-2.

EVERETT MARSHALL WINS KANSAS CITY.—Evert Marshall, 22, La Junta, Colo., defeated Lee Wycoff, 228, Nevada, Mo., two out of three falls.

MONTGOMERY WARD, MOTOR FUELS JOIN CITY LOOP

Two new teams—Montgomery Ward and Motor Fuels—were assured today for the Santa Ana City softball league, which set April 12 as the deadline for the filing of applications for new franchises.

Walter Jordan of Ward's and Bob Wimbush of Motor Fuels were present at last night's first reorganization meeting, in which Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison, league president, was re-elected, along with Commissioners Tom J. Neal and W. F. (Bill) Menton.

Joe's Grocery will defend its title under the banner of the Grand Central Market, Manager Larry Owens of the '36 champions announced. Others to be back in the fold are M. E. South, the First National and Commercial National Banks, Elks and Carpenters' Local.

Among the important rules voted last night were: Players must reside in or work in Santa Ana not less than five days a week, or receive their mail through rural delivery at a legitimate residence by March 29, or be a member of the organization in the city having a team in the league, must reside in Orange county. The club of Tustin is included in this territory as to residence only.

Arlington Downs Launches 28-Day Racing Program

ARLINGTON DOWNS, Tex. (AP)—Everything was in readiness today for the opening tomorrow of the 28-day spring racing meet at Arlington Downs.

Twenty-five thoroughbreds were listed for the inaugural handicap, feature event of the first day's program.

They include C. E. Davidson's Navanod, winner of the $15,000 Waggoner Memorial Handicap last fall, and Milky Way farm's The Fighter. The race will be over the six and one-half furlong route and carries a value of $1,500 added.

'Y' ALL-STAR FIVES PLAY TONIGHT

Basketball will be ushered to a colorful conclusion at the Y. M. C. A. tonight.

All-star fives from the Community Church and Commercial leagues, selected by Santa Ana sports editors, will battle at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission charge.

The game will follow a 6:15 banquet program, featuring a talk by Coach Stevan White of Orange High school on "Next Year's Basketball Rules," and the presentation of championship awards to Wilson's Service of the Commercial league and the Tustin Advent Christians of the Church league.

On the strength of their 47-25 victory in a special game last week, Wilson's cagers should supply the punch that will defeat the church all-stars because three of the Wilson players—Fred Erdhaus, Tom Lacy and Charles Denio—are on the commercial team.

Others are Harold (Chuck) Barrett, scoring ace of the Dons, and Irwin (Baldy) Foltz, both of Scott's Malt; Francis Dell of Penhall's, Westminster; and Jack Reade, Southern Counties' Gas company mainstay.

Tustin's Advent Christian champions dominated the church all-star lineup, with George Padias, LeRoy (Chub) Sears, Harold Spangler and C. Stone. Others ready for service are Howard Spangler of M. E. South, Marvin Webb of the Christian Missionary Alliance and Brooks of the Midway City Nazarenes.

Grant, Riggs Gain In Net Tourney

ATLANTA. (AP)—Bryan Grant and Bobby Riggs headed today into second round opposition that seemed unlikely to check their drive to the finals of the Atlanta invitational tennis tournament, and a possible hint on Davis Cup lineups.

Grant set the tone for the eight seeded entries yesterday by blasting Burtz Boulware of Georgia Tech, 6-0, 6-2. Today he faced seasoned Vernon Marcum, of Lakeland, Fla.

Riggs breezed through Dr. Glenn Dudley of Atlanta, 6-0, 6-3, and played Malon Courts, Atlanta veteran today.

BOXER ABEL BURIED CHICAGO. (AP)—Barney Abel, 65, top-ranking featherweight boxer 40 years ago and one-time manager of Sammy Mandell and Walcott Langford, was buried today. Abel died Sunday of heart disease.

TRAINING CAMP DOPE

LAKELAND. (AP)—Manager Mickey Cochran hopes his star pitcher, Paul (Dizzy) Trout, will head his counsel.

The talkative Trout tried to badger the St. Louis Cards Sunday. In one inning the Gas House Gang routed him from the mound. Cochran gently reprimanded Trout yesterday, telling him, "You've got a chance to make good in the majors and don't miff it because you want to be like Dizzy Dean."

SARASOTA. (AP)—Right-hander Jack Wilson will make his first 1937 start today when the Red Sox open their only series with the Bees 1400 miles from home. Manager Joe Cronin has been nursing Wilson along in the hope he will gain enough control to qualify as the club's fourth starting pitcher.

Bill McKechnie will send deacon Danny MacFadden and Lou Fette, his most effective citrus season pitchers, into action for the Bees.

KOX, STEINKE IN STRAIGHT FALL WINS

'King Kong' Manhandles Cox; German Behemoth Overpowers Schultz

The one-man riot ran rampant again last night at the highway house of horrors.

It was every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost, with King Kong Kox in the role of cleaner-upper for the sinister bird from the nether regions.

Myron Cox, the handsome life-guard, was hindmost, with an assorted bevy of spectators and Referee Vargas running a close second.

Kox manhandled and mutilated Capt. Cox into submission in two straight falls, to take the main event, after Hans Steinke had set the pace by winning two straight heats from Carl Schultz of Milwaukee.

Body Slams Effective The individual riot whipped the life-guard most convincingly, if not prettily.

In the first fall he bit, kicked, gouged and stuck his thumbs in eyes. He provided the grand climax when he broke the ropes, nearly choked Admiral Cox to death with a towel around his throat, made a round-trip excursion from ring to gallery and back, and put the referee on his back.

In between times he baited the ringsiders, blew kisses to the six-bit seats, and smoked a cigarette. He thinks of everything.

He won the fall technically with body slams, in 13:21, leaving Commodore Cox prostrate and cold. Cox was not worth much when he showed up for the second fall, immediately succumbing to a series of elbow smashes, kicks to the midriff and a body slam, in about as long as it takes to tell it.

By comparison, Herr Steinke's match with the bear was a mere utterance, although it actually contained a good bit more wrestling. The strong man from the German pampas did his dirty work in the first fall in the time of 20:59.

Steinke won this one with a body cross. Ref. Vargas already had given Schultz a couple of tentative pats to indicate he had won the fall, when Steinke rolled over and Vargas changed his mind.

Steinke clamped on his second boomerang hold in the dream fall, utterly subduing his opponent in 12:12, when he stood him on his head and held him there for three seconds.

Iron Man Mike Works wrestled both openers, losing them both. It didn't look like he should have lost either of them, but Works defeated himself in both instances.

In the first he lost to Bob Coleman via the disqualification route, by getting too rough and ready. He lost his battle to young Stecher, the Orange county corner, by means of an airplane spin, after he had battered Stecher about the ring so small bit.

All in all it was a most successful, and very rough evening. The fans, who turned out in something like the old time style, loved it.

BOXER ABEL BURIED CHICAGO. (AP)—Barney Abel, 65, top-ranking featherweight boxer 40 years ago and one-time manager of Sammy Mandell and Walcott Langford, was buried today. Abel died Sunday of heart disease.

Six Grapplers in Sit-Down Strike Just Before Show

MILWAUKEE. (AP)—Wrestlers handled a sit-down strike here last night in their most approved style.

Henry Toile, promoter, found six wrestlers instead of two in the ring when he wanted to start his show. More money was the issue.

The promoter offered an additional "twenty" and five called off the strike. John Felix, however, demanded "fifty" extra and kept sitting. But the show went on, and Arnold Poca and Einar Olson soon were tossing one another around and at Felix.

Tiring finally of the sit-downer, the wrestlers tossed him over the ropes. Milwaukee's first sit-down strike was a washout in the laps of the customers.

DONS LOSE TO FULLERTON'S PREPS, 8-5

Santa Ana Jaycee's baseball debut was marred by Fullerton High school, 8-5, at Poly field yesterday, but Coach Blanchard Beatty was deeply impressed by the stick-work of his collegians.

Southpaw Arnold Fickie and Fred Erdhaus toiled in the seven-inning tilt for the Dons, limiting their high school opponents to six hits while their teammates were collecting 11 off the offerings of Tony Hines.

Fielder Bill Nowotny doubled to get Tay Riggs over the plate to open the sixth, and Pitcher Fickie doubled and Nowotny scored on the hit. The seventh found both Harold Jesse and Burns Drake being walked, with Riggs scoring them on a clean single.

Coach Beatty has arranged to meet the Saints tomorrow and Anaheim Friday afternoon there. April 14 the Dons go to Long Beach for a match with the Vikings.

Billiards Title Favorite Loses

NEW YORK. (AP)—With one of the favorites already upset, the world pocket billiards championships got into full swing today with afternoon and evening sessions of two matches each.

Andrew Ponzi, who won the title in 1935 but failed to defend it, last year came a cropper in his first match last night after his title successor, Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del., had staged a triumphant opening.

Few "experts" figured Appling as a possible contender for American league hickory honors when the '36 season opened. Even when his name continued among the first five week after week, they insisted that, sooner or later, he would be forced down by fellows like Joe Vosmik, Lou Gehrig or Charlie Gehring.

Appling felled them all. When the season ended, his name topped the list with a mark of 388. He was the first White Sox in history to win the batting crown. He was the first A. L. shortstop to triumph at the plate, as well.

His batting average had risen 81 percentage points over his 1935 mark—due, of course, to his "luck." The fact that he bats right-handed didn't help any. The left-handed swatman has a distinct advantage. He's a step nearer first base, a thing that often means the difference between being safe and being out.

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—Although most of the New York Giants still were raising doubts about Bob Feller today after his failure to hit his delivery, Dick Bartell and Sam Leslie claimed Van Mungo of Brooklyn had a slight edge over the youngster in speed.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Jack Winsett, Brooklyn recruit outfielder, is carrying on the Dodger tradition of daffiness which Manager Burleigh Grimes is seeking to banish. Wrapped in thought on the bench during an exhibition game, Winsett was rapped on the head by a high foul.

ORLANDO. (AP)—Joe Kuhel, Washington first baseman who was hit in the head by a pitched ball last week, was back in the game today, showing no sign of being "gun-shy."

H. B. REPLACES NEVA WITH ERRINGTON

Olive Merger With Brea Off; Luker, Long Beach Recruit, Joins S. A.

All was not quiet along the National Nightball league front today.

Ben Gelker, "The Lone Wolf of Olive," announced definitely he would not move his franchise to Brea, but was considering other offers—one from Garden Grove.

2. Huntington Beach's pitching problems were solved by the acquisition of Elwynn (Fuzzy) Errington of Westminster to replace Louie Neva, the Russian wonder who leaves for Ponca City, Okla. this week for a baseball career in the Western Association.

3. Santa Ana's Stars acquired a new second-base recruit in Frank Luker, a fine prospect from the Long Beach City league; and Manager Ray Smith cut his rookie squad to nine players—Alex Clark, LeRoy Levens, Bob Mott, Loc Morse, Louie Kuhn, George Conaway, Al Halderman, Charles Hill and the newcomer, Luker.

Two of Santa Ana's best recruits, Ray Hodgson and LeRoy (Chub) Sears, have checked in their suits. Hodgson, who pitched for the County Nightball league last year, has returned to the Beavers, and Sears has accepted a position with the Goodyear Tire company in Los Angeles.

Luker, brought here last night by Third-Baseman Tommy Young, deeply impressed Manager Smith, who experimented with two infield combinations.

Among the Star "regulars" to limber up were Jim Coates, No. 1 gunner; Ben (Bono) Koral, catcher; Charley Comstock, shortstop; Ira DeBusk, pitcher; Herb Bove, catcher; and Manager Smith, second-baseman and shortstop.

In one infield combination, Smith had Koral behind the plate, with Mott on first, Luker on second, Comstock at short and Young on third. In the other, Bove was back of the log, with Mott on first, Morse on second, Clark at short and Levens on third.

SPORTS SLANTS

By "PAP"

You ask Luke Appling why he won the '36 American league batting championship, and he says: "I don't know. I must have been plain lucky."

You can't accuse the Chicago White Sox shortstop of kidding himself. He's the first to probe the answer of any major league swat monarch.

Luck plays a tremendous part in winning batting titles. To be top man, a player has to have had the breaks. Most hits fall fair by only a few feet. It's largely a matter of circumstance whether the fielders happen to be a few feet off the way when the ball goes sailing to the outer gardens.

It's a strange thing, but when a man is on a hitting spree everything he hits lands in safe territory. When a man is in a slump, he may be hitting as hard as ever, but every ball goes straight to a waiting fielder. When hard-hit balls fall to count, about all a batter can do is keep swinging and hope his luck will change.

Few "experts" figured Appling as a possible contender for American league hickory honors when the '36 season opened. Even when his name continued among the first five week after week, they insisted that, sooner or later, he would be forced down by fellows like Joe Vosmik, Lou Gehrig or Charlie Gehring.

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By F. N. (BRICK) GAINES

Between Frank Orr and myself, we're going to get this column written some way or another. Neither of us should be held responsible for our share, as Frank just finished broadcasting news and I just ate too much supper. See how it is?

And besides, there doesn't seem to be much to write about!

First, we might consider the case of Bertha, the bones and the Placentia Rotary club.

This all started a couple of weeks ago, when Frank Rospaw announced discovery of a huge megalithic shishone, or something, Frank Anderson dug up the prehistoric T-bone out on the Travis ranch east of Placentia.

Ernest Johnson, the Santa Ana rancho man, claimed, in jest, that his dog buried that bone. The Rotarians hooted and howled at the suggestion, so he decided to prove truth to his claim.

He called in Charlie Thamer to aid him in securing a very huge dog to put beside a bone he'd discovered on the canyon rancho. They wanted a dog of such proportions that he'd dwarf even the huge drumstick he planned to bring to the next meeting. A monstrous dog wouldn't do—he simply had to be colossal and they couldn't find one that'd serve the purpose, in spite of the fact that they searched virtually all of Orange county for such a canine specimen.

So finally they decided to invite Bertha to their party, deciding if they couldn't get a colossal dog, a tiny one'd do almost as well. Bertha, incidentally, is the Gaines Scotchman, guardian of the front porch at night.

So, when the Rotary club was to meet, they took Bertha and the huge bones and arranged an exhibit in front of the eating place. They even painted a large sign, pointing out, for Frank Rospaw's benefit, that this was the dog that buried the bone.

There was only one beetle in the Rotarian's ointment. Bertha wouldn't exhibit the least bit of interest in the bone. In fact, she highbrowed that one-time delectable specimen, or whatever it was. And they couldn't have a dog highbrowing their highly advertised collection of long-buried whatnots.

So Charlie, being a resourceful soul, purchased handfuls of hamburger and a quantity of syrup, which he used to smear the large antique from one end to the other.

Thus, when eager Rotarians arrived at the meeting, Bertha was eagerly licking the huge bone, as though she'd just finished digging it back up, and all the Rotarians got a big laugh and Bertha a stomach full of hamburger and syrup. Therefore, everyone was happy, all except Frank Rospaw, who neglected to come to the meeting.

And now here's Orr, the radio man. From a casual glance at his, thank goodness, contribution, it should be labelled "Over the Waves." See what you think!

The local squawk about police radios got some of the deputy sheriffs to talking the other day. Short wave radio, admittedly, is popular stuff. There is an excitement somewhere, but it's complicated. Anyway, the short waves are temperamental.

The county police station, for instance, has 500-watt power. It's picked up in all sorts of places, although Bud Whiteman, who runs the station, doesn't get fan mail very often.

Something about Orange county, though, and especially the flat country near Huntington Beach. Sheriff's officers are experimenting with a car which carries a transmitter, for two-way communication with headquarters. Some places they sent out their signals without a bit of trouble; others, it's like talking in a closet. Nobody hears them. Handy, though, when it does work. They picked up a drunk driver, for instance. Just a few words into the portable microphone, and when they arrive at the jail there's the doctor ready to make the suspect say "Methodist Episcopal."

They picked up stations all over the country, too, like the Los Angeles officers who got a message to go to such and so and stop the children from skating on the thin ice. Kansas City and Portland, Me., are on practically the same wavelength at KGX.

If they could only talk back!

ORANGE WITHDRAWAL FROM OUTFALL DISTRICT SUGGESTED

NEW SYSTEM FAVORED BY COUNCIL

$40,000 Disposal Plant Urged; Watson Named To City Board

ORANGE.—The city of Orange will withdraw from the outfall sewer district and construct a $40,000 sewage treatment plant on 10 acres of city owned land if recommendations of Councilman Cal Lester are followed.

Lester, who resigned last night to accept a position as justice of the peace of Orange township, was replaced on the council by Keller Watson, Jr., Orange druggist, who will fill the unexpired term of about one year.

Cost Told
Prior to his resignation Councilman Lester reported on expense to the city if present plans for repairing the joint outfall sewer are completed. It would cost Orange $44,787 for its share of the repair to section one, he reported. The treatment plant alone would cost the city $16,000 he added. In addition, section two, and the city's own line from the Santa Ana river, must be repaired, making a total bill which would easily reach $100,000, Lester said.

As the city already owns 10 acres near the river, he suggested the city construct a treatment plant on this land, at a cost not more than $40,000, and turn the water into the river bed. The city would then withdraw from the outfall sewer district.

Tour Sited
C. C. Bonebrake extended an invitation made by W. C. Curry, Santa Ana, to the council, asking that body to accompany him on an inspection tour to sewage disposal plants in California and Ontario. The trip will be made Wednesday. It was decided. No formal action was taken last night on Lester's proposal, although council members expressed approval informally.

The city body voted to join the other cities of the district in the purchase of an insurance policy on the ocean end of the sewer line, the cost to Orange to be $420 for the intact portion, and $70 for the portion under construction.

Mayor A. C. Boice announced appointment of Councilmen Carl Carlson and Henry Bandick as members of the finance committee, and announced that other committee appointments will be made at the next meeting, April 7.

SCHOOL TENTS CAUSE WORRY

Thursday night when the board of education meets, the problem of what to do with about 20 of the tents in which high school students have been going to school will confront the board again.

Superintendent Frank A. Henderson said today something must be done about the tents, and soon. The Anaheim school system bought five of the tents, but there are many left.

Principals of various elementary schools in the city would like to have some of the tents to use on the school grounds for various activities, but the board of education thinks they would be unsightly.

Today members of Parent-Teacher associations and the principals of the schools were making a survey to determine public sentiment on the matter, and something is expected to be done Thursday night.

Bids for the proposed 10 new tennis courts to be erected at the high school will be opened at the Thursday session. It was indicated that the tents must be taken off the high school grounds before construction work on the tennis courts is started.

CULPRIT CURS TO SUFFER Laguna's Dog Census Leaps

LAGUNA BEACH.—Dogs once again enter the limelight at Laguna with the unofficial census showing there to be one dog for every four residents and one license for every three and one-half dogs.

Figures by Humane Officer Fred Walters show that 300 dogs have licenses, while 700 roam the streets without full protection of the law.

The prospect of locking up 700

dogs in Laguna's spacious and palatial "Hotel des Pooches" does not appeal to Walters, so he announced that strict enforcement of the law prohibiting unleashed dogs on the beach will go into effect at once.

Culprits found wandering on the beach will get a ride in the animal ambulance to the dog-house and owners required to purchase a dog tag in addition to pay a handling charge.

STUDENTS GONE FROM NEWPORT

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Something of a ghost town today was Newport-Balboa, a deserted resort peopled with the ghosts of the guests of last week's collegiate jamboree.

At the jail were a few left-overs who have been unable to raise bail or pay fines imposed for misdemeanors charged against them. In odd corners, vacant lots and scattered along the beach were the empties that had caused it all.

Rebent boat men were busily restoring bruised paint and hard-worked canvas of their fleets. Proprietors of cottage courts were at similar tasks.

PRESERVE IS SOUGHT FOR COUNTY

SAN CLEMENTE.—Dan Mulherson, county WPA manager, and Leslie F. Kimmell of Laguna, Coast association president, left here Sunday for Sacramento, where they plan to aid in a campaign to support Orange county's proposed fish preserve measure.

Departure of the two active workers clinched an active campaign in the county for passage of the measure. Assemblyman Clyde Watson, Orange, presented the bill, which would create a preserve two miles at sea and the length of the county coastline, prohibiting purse seiners from operating in the area.

Possibility that the bill, which passed the legislature last year, only to be declared unconstitutional by the appellate court, may find favor in the assembly was indicated by Watson during his last visit here.

Mulherson and Kimmell also will aid in the fight facing supporters of the so-called "sardine measure," which would control off-shoot plants which reduce sardines to meal and oil.

COFFEE CAN BURNS HOUSE Strange Case Irks Firemen

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Earl Morrow, retired telephone tycoon, today had one for the Journal's new feature, "Strange as it Seems" by John Hix. His house on the bayfront here was almost burned by a coffee can. If the ice man had not come along—

It was an empty can that had been dropped at the side of the house, bottom up. Sun rays reflected from the shining tin burned a hole through redwood sheathing, caught the tar paper underneath and was just getting away to a regular blaze when along came the ice man.

He put it out with a bucket of water while Mrs. Morrow was at the telephone calling the fire department.

"It was," said Fire Chief Frank Crocker, "the strangest cause of fire yet brought to the attention of this department."

And what's more, Earl Morrow has the coffee can to prove it. He's going to use it for bait or something for his frequent sport of fishing from his front yard.

FUGITIVE BRIDE

By RUTH LOUISE AYRES

Three days before Martha Halliday, daughter of a wealthy banker, is to marry Nick Garrett, playboy scion of a fine old family, she overhears gossip that he is marrying her only because of the financial aid her father can give to his father. She has also heard that Nick has been following a dancer, Nita Lombard, on her tour about the country.

Martha suddenly decides to run away from her wedding and sets out, in her car, for her Aunt Genevieve's home in the next state. She gets caught in a storm, runs out of gas, and finally makes her way to the Oakville hotel, famed resort where she discovers she has lost her purse and is forced to seek a job as a waitress in the hotel night club. Meanwhile, Nick has arranged to meet Nita at this same hotel, where she is scheduled to dance that evening. Shortly after Nita arrives, she looks out of her window and sees a man who presence at the hotel apparently startles her.

CHAPTER VIII
When Nita Lombard had looked down on the tennis courts from her window, that afternoon, she had seen a ghost—a ghost stepping into her today out of the stormy yesterday of her youth. The slender, blond tennis player she had met was Gregory White.

She drew back from the window, and thought fast. Gregory was a pianist. Probably, he was playing with the hotel orchestra. She would come face to face with him at rehearsal this evening.

"But he wouldn't dare to make a scene," Nita assured herself. "I'll just ignore him."

She had not seen Gregory for nearly five years. Every time he had written to her, begging a chance to see her, she had torn up the letters.

She had married him when she was seventeen, and he twenty. She had soon been drawing bigger salary checks than he, and taking contracts which made it impossible for them to have a home together.

Inevitably, these rare meetings had turned into stormy quarrels. Finally, entirely over the youthful romance, Nita had left him for good.

She hadn't told Nick about Gregory. She had figured that, if her plans in regard to Nick worked out, there would be time enough later to go about the business of getting a divorce quietly.

Angrily, now, because Gregory had turned up again at this inopportune time, Nita picked up a hairbrush and sent it spinning across the room.

'SCANTY' LAW SOUGHT FOR LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH.—Having investigated the bathing suit situation quite thoroughly over the week-end, city councilmen are prepared to solve the perennial problem of bathing suit ordinances at council meeting tomorrow night.

Various councilmen and other helpful citizens looked the situation over at the beach, and although not commenting on their recommendations, they are reported as approving what they saw.

Added to councilmen's first-hand investigation will be City Attorney Milburn Harvey's report on ordinances as enforced in other beach towns.

Various civic organizations including the Business and Professional Women's club have requested the council to act upon the matter and draw up an ordinance that can be enforced.

The present ordinance, besides describing the correct attire for beach wear, prohibits wrestling on the beach by members of the opposite sex not fully clothed. This provision of the law has lifeguards considerably worried as it may endanger their position as instructors of lifesaving methods which includes proper use of various holds and "carries" and applying of resuscitation methods.

ATTENDANTS AT POOL NAMED

ORANGE.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Unzelman were appointed attendants of the city plunge when it opens May 1, at last night's city council meeting. The penthouse on the roof of the bathhouse to be occupied by the couple will not be ready for at least 30 days after the opening, it was announced by Mayor A. C. Boice.

A flag will be donated by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars for the flagpole in the park, it was announced by Councilman J. E. Riley. It was decided to employ a night watchman for the park, to be on duty from 5 to 9 p. m. to prevent vandalism. Park Superintendent Ben Dierker said boys have been visiting the park after work hours, and have tossed large planks in the Santiago creek to see them float away.

Three appraisers to serve without pay were appointed by the mayor, the three agreeing to appraise the property to be used in opening an alley to extend from Maple street almost to East Chapman avenue, thence to North Orange street. Named were Paul Muench, S. B. Edwards and Thomas Green.

VISIT BOULDER DAM

COSTA MESA.—Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rea and family spent Easter vacation at Boulder Dam and other nearby points of interest.

Get a "Briggy-Wiggay" at Frank's Coffee Shop.

Would you mind?" she repeated. "A solo for the overture of Tia Juana?"

He turned and went back to the piano.

When the rehearsal was finally over, Nita slipped into her skirt, murmured, "Thanks very much," to the orchestra leader, and walked out of the club without having spoken again to Gregory.

She had been in her room only a few minutes when the phone rang. She knew it would be Gregory.

Letting the phone ring for a while, she walked to the window, and gazed out at the storm that had been raging since last afternoon. It might be that Nick would be delayed by the storm—might not even get here tonight. Even so, she had no wish to see Gregory. She must make this very plain to him.

She turned, at last, to answer the phone.

"Hello," she said irritably. "Nita darling!"

"I beg your pardon?"

"Oh, Nita—please don't say I can't see you! I must see you!"

"Is this Gregory?" Nita asked coldly.

"Why, yes—of course."

"Well, Gregory, I really must ask you to leave me alone."

"Then, surely, you can't turn me down when all I want is to see you for a few minutes—when we are right here under the same roof."

Nita thought, "It may be simpler to see him. I can make my wishes perfectly clear to him if he comes up."

She said, "Gregory, it seems to me that this is all pretty pointless but, if you insist, you may come up—but only for a few minutes. I am very tired and must rest before the first show." She hung up.

Presently, his knock sounded at the door.

"Come in," said Nita, trying to keep her voice cool.

He came in and closed the door behind him. She could see he was eager, hopeful.

"Nita," he said, "I've waited for this moment for five years."

BRISTOL IS OPPOSED AS ARTERY

Through Route Plan Is Scored by Bruns at Council Meet

Opposition to a proposal to route a through highway on Bristol street came to the surface at an informal session of the city council yesterday afternoon.

The council was outlining future work on Flower street when Councilman Plummer Bruns voiced strong protests against plans revealed recently to establish a through highway along Bristol street. Bruns said he does not approve shunting traffic around the main part of the city through Bristol.

Focal Point

Bruns said eventually Flower street must be developed as a main artery for traffic. He pointed out that Santa Ana rapidly is becoming the focal point for traffic from many routes.

At the formal night session the council adopted a resolution establishing a curb line on the west side of Flower street between Washington and Fifteenth streets.

It was the first action taken by the council on a contemplated development of Flower street. It is planned in the future to consider widening of Flower street from Washington to Seventeenth.

Petition Filed

Last year the planning commission recommended that the city council widen Flower between Washington and Seventeenth to a minimum of 56 feet between curbs, and establish a proper setback line. Then came a petition from property owners between Eighth and Washington on Flower, asking for a setback survey to settle property lines in case widening and straightening of the street is started.

The planning commission then recommended acquisition by the city of a minimum of 10 feet on the west side of Flower between Eighth and Washington, with paving work, curbs and sidewalks to be constructed. It was recommended that this action be taken as soon as possible. Councilman William Penn expressed the opinion that a 36-foot street on Flower from Eighth to Washington would suffice.

NEW TWIN BILL AT WALKER'S

Presenting an all-star cast, "Sing Me a Love Song" tops the double bill that opens Wednesday at Walker's theater for an engagement of four days. The other feature is "Beloved Enemy."

James Melton and Patricia Ellis appear as the leads in "Sing Me a Love Song," a musical romance built about the story of a young man bequeathed a huge department store, the operation of which he knows nothing. When he learns his fortune is dwindling rapidly, he gets a job in his own store as a clerk to learn the business, falls in love with a fellow clerk, and has a difficult time winning her back when she discovers who he really is.

With them in the cast are Zasu Pitts, Hugh Herbert, Allen Jenkins, Walter Catlett, Nat Pendleton and Ann Sheridan. "Beloved Enemy," starring Merle Oberon and Brian Aherne, and featuring Karen Morley, Henry Stephenson, David Niven and Jerome Cowan in supporting roles, is the story of romance in Ireland, while Miss Oberon plays the role of an English girl torn between duty to her country and love for Aherne when she learns who he is. The climax shows how she risks her life to intercede for her lover and the cause she is sworn to oppose.

Also on the bill are a Silly Symphony cartoon and a newsreel.

'Seventh Heaven' Proves Hit Here

Bringing back to the screen the Austin Strong classic, the immortal "Seventh Heaven," now at the Broadway theater Twentieth Century-Fox have achieved a triumph.

James Stewart, borrowed from a rival studio for the role of "Chico," could not have been a better choice. Stewart as the lanky sewer worker with ambitions to become a street washer and acquire a golden-haired and intelligent wife, makes a bid for stardom in this picture that will not be denied. Simone Simon, sensational French actress, is cast in the role of "Diana," waif of the Paris Montmartre district, who is rescued by the "very remarkable" Chico and taken to his seventh story garret where the romance of our times begins its course.

Cast in featured roles are such players as Jean Harlow, Gregory Ratoff, Sondegard, John Qualen, J. Edward Bromberg and Mady Christians.

The twin feature on the program has James Dunn and Sally Eilers co-starring in "We Have Our Moments." Miss Anna Lee has the chief comedy assignment.

A Walt Disney colored cartoon and Movietone news complete the bill.

Have you tried a "Briggy-Wiggy" from Frank's Coffee Shop?

Organize Band

BOY MUSICIAN

"Making good boys better."

This is the slogan of the National Crusaders Boys Military band, a unit of which is being launched in Santa Ana by Les Phillips, of the Blue-Note Music company at 420 West Fourth street.

The object of this boys' organization is two-fold—building character and musical education. But the greatest is to make good boys better, thus improving the community of the nation, Phillips said. The picture above shows a member of the Pueblo, Colo., boys' band.

The program offers constructive use of leisure time, it answers the "gang" instinct, it develops leadership, overcomes timidity, promotes respect for authority, creates a desire for clean comradeship, cooperates with the home, school and church and strengthens character, besides starting the boy in musical training at the right age. Phillips points out that membership is open to any boy between 8 and 14 years of age, who can furnish satisfactory character references.

When the band is organized, with a possible membership of 500, it will give to Santa Ana a nationwide advertising feature, Phillips adds.

Townsend News, Views

(Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal-Editor's office.)

A pot-luck dinner is being held by Santa Ana club No. 6 in the basement of the First Christian church at West Sixth and Broadway streets, at 6:30 o'clock this evening. The affair will be in honor of A. M. Mapes, president, who has returned from a two-month stay in New York state. Bring your own table service and a covered dish and have a good time with the rest. Santa Ana Townsendites won't go hungry tonight. Club No. 5 is also having a pot-luck dinner from 6 to 7:15 p. m. The social hall of the Richmond Avenue Methodist church will be the scene of festivities. The order is to bring your own table service and a contribution of food and enjoy the evening. At 7:30 in the church auditorium District Manager J. H. Walsh will address a business meeting.

Santa Ana club No. 8 is meeting in the Lincoln school in the 1400 block on French street at 7:30 tonight. J. H. Nicholson, president, will preside over the business session. The membership is urged to be present.

Here's a letter from far away Florida from folks who read this column as subscribers to The Journal. The writers are Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bowen who are visiting with a daughter near East Palatka which borders the banks of the St. Johns river. The Bowens are Tustin folk and they write they are having a great time. They are very active members of the Tustin club. A portion of the letter follows:

"Friend Robb: My wife and I have just finished reading your column in The Journal, which we thoroughly enjoy, as it informs us of the Townsend activities at home and abroad.

"The clubs in this part of Florida do not seem as strong as the ones in California. The people seem to be in favor of the movement but they seem to lack leadership. They don't have nice places to meet and consequently the attendance suffers.

"Last Friday night we attended a meeting in a small town about eight miles from here. The meeting was held in an old school house which did not have electric lights. There was no music and only a small number present. However, they sent a telegram protesting the federal court sentence of Dr. Townsend, as did also the Jacksonville and the Palatka clubs.

"The scenery is very different here from California. We are enjoying it very much but miss our many California friends.

"Yours for the Townsend plan (Signed) Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bowen."

ESPEE STRIKE AIR MAIL TO FOLLOW NEW ROUTES

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP) — A strike vote by 8,000 train employees of the Southern Pacific Company will continue despite the United States supreme court's upholding of the railroad labor act, C. V. McLaughlin of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers asserted here.

McLaughlin, a vice president of the union, declared the vote will continue under authority of the act which recognizes the right of collective bargaining and provides for settlement of disputes.

Votes were being cast by members of the McLaughlin's union and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who the official said charged the company with setting aside contractual agreements in violation of the national act.

The company claims the trouble has arisen because of a jurisdictional dispute between the two unions and the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Service on foreign air mail route from San Francisco by Honolulu, Hawaii, and Guam to Manila will be extended from Manila via Macao, Portuguese colony in Asia, to Hong Kong, and return from Hong Kong direct to Manila, effective with west-bound flight due to leave San Francisco April 21, and east-bound flight due to leave Hong Kong April 29.

Philatelic treatment will be given all articles carried by the first flight each way on the extended part of the route to and from Macao and Hong Kong. For the first flight only, senders in this country may address covers to themselves or to any other person at destinations in the United States or elsewhere, and send such covers prepaid with United States stamps in containers to the postmasters at San Francisco, Honolulu and Guam, for mailing of such covers at those offices and onward dispatch by the first flight to Macao and Hong Kong. Covers also may be sent to the postmaster at Manila.

The postal administration of Hong Kong announced that the Hong Kong office will accept fully prepaid and stamped covers for east-bound dispatch by the first flight.

Effective with service by the first flight over the route as extended, air mail rates will be reduced. A schedule of rates may be obtained from the local post office.

CITY THANKED BY DE MOLAY

Expressing appreciation for the opportunity to hold down all important city jobs on Civic day staged here recently, Scribe John Schrier sent a letter yesterday to the city council.

The letter said the boys appreciate the fine sportsmanship of the city officials, and every boy that took part in the program gained a deeper appreciation of the problems of the city officials. The boys promised to do their best not to add to the burdens now on the shoulders of the city officials.

JOINT OUTFALL SEWER REPAIR WILL COST DISTRICT $40,000

CITY'S SHARE OF COST IS $19,427

S. A. Auditor's Report
Shows Revenue Above
Anticipations

Repair work on the damaged ocean end section of the joint outfall sewer rapidly neared completion today. But first figures announced showed that the cost of the repair job to member cities and districts already is more than $40,000.

Santa Ana's share of the cost so far is $19,427. The unexpected emergency repairs made considerable of a dent in the city's financial setup, it was revealed last night in a report presented by City Auditor Lloyd Banks, covering nine months of the fiscal year.

Total revenue for the city in excess of the amount estimated for the period was $17,076.55. The total expenditures are above the nine months' apportionment in the amount of $24,404.13, which means that $7467.58 has been spent from the city operating surplus fund.

Not in Budget
Cause for the excess expenditure was the damage to the outfall sewer system. The city of Santa Ana's share of this expense since July 1 has been $19,427.60, which amount has been included in the disbursement items of the budget, but which was not provided for at the time the budget was adopted.

Bank's report called attention to the value of having an operating surplus fund. Otherwise, he said, the city might have been in an embarrassing situation when the sewer repair emergency arose and it might have been necessary to vote bonds to take care of such a large expenditure for emergency repairs.

The report said an analysis of receipts and disbursements has been made to July 1, 1937, and even with allowing the additional expense that must be paid for the completion of the outfall sewer repairs, the city's operating fund balances as of July 1 will show as much on hand as the city had in the same funds July 1, 1936.

No New Equipment
In order to maintain this amount, it was stated, city departments must not ask for new equipment or for any new expenditure that was not allowed in the budget for this fiscal year. It was pointed out that practically all materials and supplies needed by the city to carry on necessary operations have advanced in price considerably, which was not anticipated at the beginning of the fiscal year. Larger quantities are being purchased from time to time in order to take advantage of the present market prices before anticipated increases are put into effect.

"In conclusion," the report stated, "you will notice that most

H. S. STUDENTS KENNEDY FILES BOOST RATING SEWER REPORT

Santa Ana high school students were better citizens during the first semester of this year than they were the last semester of last year.

That's what figures compiled by W. M. Clayton, vice principal, revealed today.

He said 46.8 per cent of the students ranked 100 in citizenship last semester as compared with 43.7 per cent in the previous semester. Further, 78.9 per cent ranked between 95 and 100, as compared with 72.1 per cent the semester before.

Placentia Sued On Flood Damage

Myron D. Clay yesterday sought $591,500 damages from the city of Placentia for damage done to his apartments during the rain and flood of February 6 and 7.

In a suit filed in superior court he charged the city caused flooding by changing the grade of Santa Fe avenue.

All items within departmental control are within their budgeted allowances, and even in face of the large expenditures due to unforeseen causes, we are still able to maintain a good fund balance, the amount being, as of April 1, 1937, $207,159.12.

"With the last half taxes being payable in April, and without any more additional unforeseen expenditures, our balances in all funds as of July 1, 1937, should be greater than the year previous, which means that sufficient funds will then be available to carry us through the first half of the 1937-38 fiscal year."

Arrangements were being made today to call a meeting of cities and districts of the joint outfall sewer district to consider the report made by Clyde C. Kennedy, Santa Ana's consulting sanitary engineer.

First made public about two weeks ago, Kennedy's report was filed by the city council last night after having been aired at a meeting of the outfall sewer board.

Kennedy's report stated that if Santa Ana found it necessary to take care of its own sewer disposal problem separate from other members of the district, a sewage treatment plant would cost the city $104,710 and the Santa Ana cost of the reconstructed sewer line, $192,400.

The engineer recommended that as a measure of economy all the cities and districts stick together. If they did this, he said, the sewage treatment plant would cost $192,130 and reconstruction of the outfall line $265,000.

Kennedy recommended use of concrete pipe for the sewer line. Aside from Santa Ana, other members of the joint district have favored use of vitrified clay pipe for the sewer line. It is hoped that Kennedy's report will form a basis for an agreement between this city and other members of the district.

LYLE TALBOT WEDS
HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Lyle Talbot and his bride, the former Marguerite Ethel Cramer of New York society, planned a European honeymoon today before he begins a London motion picture engagement. Talbot, 33, and Mrs. Talbot, 27, were married here in an Easter Sunday ceremony by Municipal Judge E. R. Brand.

CITY GETS 11 IDENTICAL GAS BIDS

Contract Is Awarded to Standard and Union
By Councilmen

Members of the Santa Ana city council and the board of supervisors disagree on the propriety of gasoline companies submitting bids all alike.

The board of supervisors raised a howl when all the oil companies submitted the same figures on gasoline gallonage in bids called for not long ago. But last night the city council thought nothing of it.

Three Classes
Eleven bids, with identical figures, were submitted to the city council by oil companies yesterday on bids for city business during the year starting April 1, when the bid contract expires. The bids for the three classes of gasoline were 16 cents, 13 cents and 12.5 cents.

When the supervisors saw the figures all lined up the same they suspected collusion, and rejected the bids, accepting one only when the provision was made that the county would be given the benefit of falling prices.

Rotate Business
But the city of Santa Ana also was promised the benefit of a declining market, which apparently removed the objection which was present in the case of the county. City Purchasing Agent Lloyd Banks said the city has been rotating the gasoline business among the various companies in the past, annual contracts being awarded. The councilmen decided to split the year into two periods of six months each, awarding the first six months' contract to the Union Oil company, and the second six months' contract to the Standard Oil company.

Water in Creek Delays Survey

Water flowing down Santiago creek is delaying investigation of plans for flood control work.

This report was given to the city council last night by Councilman Ernest H. Layton, who with City Engineer J. L. McBride had been checking a request made by property owners along the creek to remove the flood hazard which now exists.

Layton said the water coming down the creek has made it impossible to secure accurate engineering data in regard to what steps should be taken to correct the condition.

Two weeks ago property owners on the south bank of the creek between Santa Ana boulevard and Flower street asked the council to investigate the matter. A petition framing the request was signed by 17 property owners.

Latter Day Saints Hit Sunday Dances

Santa Ana has a law against dancing on Sunday.

But the Seventies Quorum of the Santa Ana ward, Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints, thought it would be a good idea to tell the council how they felt about the matter, so they sent a letter expressing opposition to Sunday dancing.

Signed by the quorum leader, George E. Clark, the letter said the organization has gone on record as unanimously opposing Sunday dancing.

Councilman Plummer Bruns pointed out that the city has a law against Sunday dancing, and the city clerk was instructed to write the church group a letter explaining the situation.

Claim Against Doctors Denied

Claims of Walter W. Neahrs for $37,500 for loss of an eye after an accident were set aside yesterday afternoon when Superior Judge G. K. Scovel ruled he did not have a case against surgeons who treated his injury.

Judge Scovel granted a non-suit motion by Head, Wellington & Jacobs, attorneys for Dr. Ralph E. Hawes, Dr. H. M. Curry, the state compensation fund, and St. Joseph's hospital.

Neahrs contended the physicians did not properly treat his eye after it was struck by a flying rivet at a Wilmington boiler works.

Life Terms for Two Holdup Men

PASADENA, (AP)—Judge Frank C. Collier yesterday sentenced Daniel Forsythe and Charles Trotter, filling station bandits who slugged their victims, to two life terms each, without the privilege of pardon or parole, and to four terms each of 10 years, on charges of kidnapping and robbery.

The men were trapped by officers headed by Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley when they tried to hold up a gas station.

PLAN TO CUT WHEEL TAX OPPOSED

Assembly Bill Would
Cut S. A. Revenue
$10,000 a Year

A vigorous protest against assembly bill 1487 has been registered by the city of Santa Ana through City Attorney L. W. Blodgett, it was learned today by The Journal following a meeting of the city council yesterday afternoon.

The measure would make it impossible for Santa Ana to collect its wheel tax, and if adopted would mean an annual loss of $10,000 to $12,000 a year in revenue for the city, according to City Clerk Ed Vegely.

Prohibitory Feature
The bill would prohibit cities from imposing license taxes upon wholesalers who do business locally, but maintain no established place in the city. The measure has been approved by the assembly committee which considered the proposed law.

A bulletin from the California League of Municipalities received by the city council said the bill is receiving considerable support in the legislature because wholesalers have been able to show that prohibitory license taxes have been imposed by a few cities upon all trucks coming into the city.

Amendment Possible
There is a possibility that an amendment will be tacked on the measure, the league bulletin said, which would prohibit excessive taxes, but permit a reasonable tax on some basis of population.

Santa Ana's wheel tax on trucks operating here is not considered excessive, city officials said, amounting to $24 a year per truck, which comes into the city to do business. It was said that a few of the cities had taxes as high as $150 a quarter per truck.

Orange county's state legislators have been asked to oppose the measure.

FORUM TOPICS ANNOUNCED

Neutrality, social disease and the struggle between human values and property values will be the subjects for discussion at Orange County forum meetings in various communities this week.

Tonight meetings will be held at Orange high school and at Huntington Beach Memorial hall with the former group in charge of W. W. Mather, Chaffee college instructor, in a discussion on "Shall We Reorganize Our State Government?" The latter will be conducted by Dr. John Brown Mason talking on "Can We Stay Neutral?" Anaheim's meeting for this evening will be under the direction of Dr. Walter H. Brown, who will use as his theme "Human Values Vs. Property Values." The meeting will be at the high school, Wednesday evening at Tustin High school, Dr. Brown will repeat his talk on "Social Diseases" and Dr. Mason will deliver his talk on "Can We Stay Neutral?" before the San Juan Capistrano group in the high school there.

The Garden Grove meeting at the high school Thursday evening also will be on "Social Diseases" and Brea's group, which meets in the Woman's clubhouse, will be in charge of Dr. Mason in a talk on "Can We Stay Neutral?" The public is cordially invited to hear these free talks.

DEADLINE ON INCOME TAX IS SET

April 15 Is Deadline on Levy for State of California

It's income tax time again. Last month was just half of it, and Charles K. McColgan, state franchise commissioner at Los Angeles, reminded Orange county today that California takes a slice, too.

April 15 is the deadline for filing state returns, which are similar in form to federal income tax blanks. Returns are required, as in the federal law, from each single person with net income of $1000 or over, from married persons with income of $2500 or more, and from anyone with gross income of $5000 or more.

The state assesses one per cent on the net taxable income, while the federal tax is four per cent. Exemptions are allowed for dependents.

Blanks and information are obtainable in Santa Ana at the state income tax office, 308 West Fifth street. Returns must be in the state office by midnight of March 15; having them in the mails is not enough because the postoffice is not a state agency. Penalties for delinquency are 25 per cent, plus one per cent after April 15.

Landscape Expert Not Yet Hired

A. A. Beard, county highway superintendent, reported yesterday he has not yet hired a landscape architect to outline planting in Santiago creek park.

He was given authority last week by the board of supervisors when a supplementary WPA project was submitted to carry the county section of the park along the creek to connect with Orange and Santa Ana city parks.

Miss Eleanor Olesen and Ed Farnsworth Exchange Vows in Hollywood Church

Reception at Country Club Follows

Newlywed Couple to Spend Honeymoon in Florida

Peach blossoms and woodwardia ferns in the soft glow of many candles formed a beautiful setting last night in the First Methodist Episcopal church of Hollywood for the nuptials of Miss Eleanor Olesen, charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto K. Olesen of 3545 Cahuenga Terrace, Hollywood, and Francis Edward Farnsworth, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth of 2219 North Broadway, Santa Ana.

The church auditorium, in which several hundred guests gathered to witness the impressive wedding ceremony was lighted by church candles in tall candelabra, placed here and there among the baskets of flowers.

Clusters of the pink blossoms, tied with bows of white satin, marked the ends of the pews on the aisle down which the bride proceeded on her way to the flower-banked altar.

Beauty and dignity were embodied in the exquisite princess gown of courtly satin worn by the bride. The dress was long, with a Queen Anne collar of duchess lace, and the hemline extended in back to form a four-yard train. Extending even beyond the length of the train was the lovely veil of tulle which fell from a halo of the same duchess lace as that in the collar.

Father Escorts Bride
Orchids, lilies of the valley, and bouvardia combined to form the beautiful shower bouquet which the bride carried as she was escorted to the altar by her father.

The service, conducted at 8:30 o'clock last evening, was read by the Rev. Mr. Glenn Randall Phillips. Just before the Lohengrin Wedding March signaled the start of the procession to the altar, Rosalie Barker, pianist, sang a group of wedding songs, accompanied by the organist, Miss Inez Jacobsen.

Six friends of the bride preceded her up the flower-lined aisle. Mrs. Francis Cochran, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Maxine Quistgard, close friend of Miss Olesen, attending as matron and maid of honor.

Four other friends, the Misses Frances Ketchum, Dorothy Allis, Sally Gaisford, and Catherine Denmead, served as bridesmaids.

Gowns in Flower Tones
All of the bridal attendants wore gowns of silk marquisette in spring flower tones, the matron of honor in pink, the maid of honor in blue, and the four bridesmaids in chateausse. Each carried a bouquet of spring flowers in tones to harmonize with their dresses.

Six friends of the bridegroom were also in the bridal entourage. Francis Selway of Santa Ana, serving in the role of best man at the altar. The five ushers were Gregson Boutzer, Edward Hall, Paul Beckman, Dr. Chad Harwood, and M. McCallen.

After the wedding, the bride and groom, and the newlywed couple, greeted their guests at a reception at the Wilshire country club, where tables had been arranged in a private room for the occasion.

A garland of white spring flowers surrounded the lovely bride-cake which was cut by the light of white tapers in silver candle holders. Members of the bridal party were seated at this table, and guests were seated at smaller tables appointed with pink flowers and pink candles. During the reception hour, soft music was furnished by the Sullivan trio, forming a charming climax for the evening.

Assisting the wedding party in receiving were the mothers of the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Olesen in a flesh-colored Chantilly lace gown, with an orchid corsage, and Mrs. Farnsworth in a gown of royal blue, also with orchids.

Honeymoon in Florida
A three-month honeymoon in Florida lies ahead of the young couple, who departed soon after the reception, the bride changing to a modish ensemble with smart spring accessories.

On their return, the couple will make their home in the country, where the bridegroom has lived all his life and where he is now engaged in ranching on his own properties.

Mr. Farnsworth received most of his schooling in Santa Ana, graduating from high school and junior college and later taking a course at Davis agricultural college of the University of California. In addition to his own ranch management, he assists his father, a prominent Santa Ana businessman, on his ranches.

His new bride attended Flintridge School for Girls in Los Angeles and the University of Southern California, affiliating on the latter campus with Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She is a popular member of the younger set in Los Angeles, and has several Santa Ana friends among her former Flintridge schoolmates.

Santa Ana Guests
Among Santa Ana guests invited to the wedding last evening were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth, Messrs. and Mesdames Edmund Guard, A. J. Cruickshank, Carl Mock, Claude Knox, George Briggs, Joel Ogle, J. Riley Huber, Helms Fowlie, George Boyd, Floyd Howard, L. W. Bemis, J. L. Daniger, Roy Langley, L. D. Coffing, Roy Lambert, W. S. Thomson, William Jeffrey, Jr., Ralph Roper.

Messrs. and Mesdames F. L. Purinton, Edwin Holmes, Jr., Donald Harwood, Albert Farnsworth, Elmer Farnsworth, Cecil Farnsworth, and others.

Your Baby Book

By BETTY COX

All blue and white is the little nursery which awaits tiny Juliana Zaiser when she feels big enough to come home from St. Joseph's hospital, where she arrived Sunday as a real Easter present.

For mother has been busy these last few months out at her home at 2428 Valencia street fixing up a room that will be Juliana's own. The woodwork is all in white, so cool and restful for baby's eyes when she is first looking about at her new world, and the little bed, chest of drawers, and dressing table with round mirror are all in white also. For the floor, Julia's mother made three hooked rugs of three different shades of blue, and the curtains at the windows and the flounce on the dresser she made of blue and white checked gingham. Two little white candle lamps grace the dressing table.

In addition to the crib, the room also boasts a daybed which strikes a harmonious note with its blue and white candlewick spread.

Another very new newcomer, arriving just four days before Easter, to be exact, is Victor, a little boy who was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leland Auer of Anaheim on March 24 at the Sargeant maternity hospital in Santa Ana.

Victor should be a most talented baby, just being the son of two of the most talented persons at Leland and Lois Auer. Part of his name he inherits from his uncle, Victor Rees.

A few rungs up on the age ladder this week we find little Judy Johnston, two-month-old baby, whose mother is Gary Morris, year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morris of Maple street, a native of Tustin, and Benny (James Benjamin) Crowell, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Crowell, Jr., of 2211 North Flower street.

Gary is quite blond and is just learning to walk. Gets around with a little assistance now, but will soon be taking steps alone. He was one year old yesterday, and among those congratulating him were his four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hendricks of Tustin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Morris.

Benny is also blond, and will be four on June 15. He is an outdoor boy, spending most of his time riding his scooter and bike and playing with his dog, Blackie, a cocker spaniel. Benny has an older brother and sister, Dickie, seven, and Patsy, nine, of whom he is very proud.

Two little visitors in the city during Easter week were Barbara and Virginia, the eight-month-old worth, Rube Farnsworth, John Farnsworth, Clyde Hall, Leland Finley, Wayne Harrison, A. W. Rutan.

Messrs. and Mesdames Newell Vandermast, Robert Edwards, Richard Ewert, Francis Selway, M. M. McCallen, Edward Hall, C. M. Harwood, Frank Miller, Urban Plavin, Robert Jeffery and Charles Ward; Dr. and Mrs. G. Stanley Norton.

Mesdames Lucy Thompson and Al Lipscombe; Misses Mary T. Thomson, Joan Baker, and Ada Sandell; and Messrs. Paul Beckman, Al Fernandez, Ernest Sawyer, Bascom Rush, Robert Johns, Jimmie Decker, Fred Glenn, Judson Palmer, Vernon Carlson, Bert Thomson, and Ila Sample; Col. John S. Sigma Theta's Hold Spring Dance

Sigma Theta's annual spring sport dance held Saturday evening at the Long Beach Municipal Country club was attended by half a hundred couples, all outfitted in their smartest Easter togs and bonnets.

Alumnae, active members and guests made up the happy group who danced to the music of Joe Lindebaum and his orchestra, and who feted Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards (Margaret Guard) upon their appearance following their wedding an hour earlier.

Several informal supper parties preceded the affair. Among them was a housewarming given by Mr. and Mrs. George Freble (Martha Wallingford) in their attractive new home on Wright street. They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Irwin (Ethel West), Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stump, Jr. (Ruth Owens), Mr. and Mrs. William Jerome (Marguerite Lentz), Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McPherson (Shirley Marble) of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mallott of Balboa.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stephenson (J. Betty Rowland) entertained Miss Alma McLain, Miss Pauline Berry, Al Forney and Wylie Carlyle, and Mr. and Mrs. Van Pomeroy (Katherine Harbert) had as their guests Miss Betty Wiswall, Miss Pauline Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dixon, Milo Ainsworth, and Fred Bronson.

COUNTY CLUBS TRADE PLANTS TOMORROW

All planning to attend the semi-annual All-county Garden clubs tomorrow at the Costa Mesa Woman's clubhouse are invited to bring specimens of any interesting flowers they may have to exhibit and are also asked to bring plants for exchange.

In addition to the speakers already announced for the meet, Mrs. J. E. (Betty) Rowland, president of the Costa Mesa Woman's club, has received word that Miss Elizabeth Bodger of the Bodger seed company of El Monte, will also be present and will speak at 11 a. m. on "New Introductions."

Miss Bodger is said to be the only woman hybridizer and is an authority on annuals. She has spoken in the county several times before.

Other speakers will include Mrs. C. M. Deakins, southern district chairman of gardeners; Mrs. Donald Smiley of Orange; and Mrs. John Manning of the Coolidge range plant gardens.

Sessions will start at 10 a. m., and all interested in gardens, whether or not they are members of garden clubs, are invited. A special invitation is extended to men to attend.

GETTY PUPILS REHEARSING

Pupils of the Vera Getty Studios are now rehearsing for a dancing revue to be given June 4 and 5 for the benefit of the Santa Ana Student Loan fund, which is an annual benefit.

Approximately 150 students will be presented each night at the auditorium, in two different reviews. One particularly outstanding number will be a presentation of 12 senior students in a difficult arrangement of the "Sextet From Lucia."

As in the past three years, Mrs. Janet Martin and her orchestra will accompany the dancers.

Myriads of azaleas and camelias in the height of their bloom were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Walbridge and Mrs. Hazel Northcross of Santa Ana and Miss Frances Emmons of Los Angeles Sunday when they drove over Santa Ana boulevard almost to Pasadena to visit the Coolidge gardens. The flowers were beautiful, according to the visitors, who plan to return later for the rhododendron display.

Two other little visitors in the city during the vacation were Barbara Jean and Billy Nelson of Los Angeles, who came to visit their cousin, Freddie Trujillo, and other relatives. We haven't time to tell you all about them this week, but will introduce all three of them next Tuesday.

Hospital Tea Enjoyed by League

In order that members of the newly reorganized Assistance League of Santa Ana might have a closer acquaintance with the project they have just taken up—the endowing of a bed in the children's ward of St. Joseph's hospital—the mother and sisters of St. Joseph's received the league members at tea yesterday afternoon at the hospital.

As they arrived, the members were taken by groups through the hospital, visiting the kitchens, the baby ward, the testing and X-ray rooms, the operating rooms, the diet kitchens, and the doctors' rooms, and last of all the immaculate and sunny children's ward in the northeast wing of the second floor, where they are to endow the bed.

The little white beds, the special bath, the big windows all attracted the visitors who from now on are to have a special interest in this big room.

Mother Patricia and the Sisters Marie Ange, Isabel, and Inez received and escorted the guests, taking them later to the solarium on the roof for a pretty tea of springtime appointments. Little chenille chickens added color to the two tables which were centered with spring blossoms, and at which tea and dainty wafers were served.

EASTER DINNER HONORS SANTA ANA

When Mr. and Mrs. Walde V. Anderson of 627 South Sycamore street took Mr. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Anderson, with them to visit a brother in Los Angeles Easter, they did not realize that a surprise birthday party was being planned in Mr. Anderson's honor.

When the Santa Anans reached the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Salkenberg, they found a beautifully decorated table, an elaborate dinner, and a number of colorful little Easter gifts, given to the children instead of to the grown-up honored guest.

Besides the W. V. Andersons and their son Wilbur Lee, and the R. Andersons, the guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. Anderson and children, Norma Jane and Bobbie, and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Salkenberg and son Curtis Gene.

STRASSMORE DUO MARRIED HERE

Easter marriage rites were read for Miss Arnie Wimberly of Anaheim and Lawrence R. Baker of Strassmore by a friend of their families, the Rev. W. J. Gough of the Church of the Nazarene, Anaheim, when their marriage occurred Sunday at the Santa Ana Wedding chapel.

Miss Wimberly was attractively outfitted in a white sports suit with matching accessories and a corsage of Talianman roses, and her attendant, Miss Cecil Wimberly, wore a yellow sports suit with gardenias. Soft music was played by Delores Sarguine at the piano, interspersed with appropriate songs by Miss Charlotte Deane.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Baker of Strassmore, is a citrus rancher. He was attended by Wayne Gough of Anaheim. After a honeymoon at the beaches the couple will make their home in Strassmore.

FULLERTON PAIR MARRY HERE

In a pretty four o'clock ceremony on Saturday, in Santa Ana's little wedding chapel, Miss Josephine Adele Hammond, daughter of J. E. Hammond of Fullerton, and George Jones, son of Mrs. Mary Jones of Placentia, were united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. D. J. Brigham, pastor of the Placentia Presbyterian church.

The bride was in white lace, her dress fashioned with a train and a fingertip veil, and she carried a bouquet of white bride roses. Her matron of honor, Miss A. Hansen of Anaheim, both wore blue organza frocks with white lace trim and carried pink sweet peas in shower bouquets. Richard Myers of Fullerton, and her maid of honor, Miss A. Hansen of Anaheim, both wore blue organza frocks with white lace trim and carried pink sweet peas in shower bouquets. Richard Myers was the usher, and A. Hurst was the best man.

Miss Joanna Lemke of Placentia sang two wedding solos before the service, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Raymond Warren of Orange, who also played the wedding march.

Eighty friends gathered for the impressive rites, following which the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Northern California. The bride's going away outfit was a brown print with brown accessories. The two received their schooling at Anaheim High school and Fullerton Junior college.

DAUGHTER HERE FOR A WEEK

Easter week was a happy homecoming occasion in the B. B. Wahl bridge home at 2222 North Main street, the Wahlbergs' daughter, Mrs. Richard Sloan, of Glendale, coming with her twin baby daughters, Barbara and Virginia, to spend the holiday week.

Mr. Sloan and Richard Nichols, also of Glendale, joined them for the week-end, and they and Mrs. Sloan, Virginia and Katherine Wahlbridge in the home, and Lee Puthoff of Glendale and Miss Pauline Riley of Santa Ana spending Saturday and Sunday at Balboa Beach.

Officers Are Chosen by Y.W.C.A.

Welcoming of a new president, Mrs. W. Dixon Guthrie, and farewell and expressions of appreciation for the work of the retiring head, Miss Mabel McFadden, combined pleasure and sadness in the reorganization meeting last night of the old and new boards of directors of the Young Women's Christian association, held in the Ebell clubhouse.

Election of officers was the chief piece of business before the board, resulting in unanimous choice of Mrs. Guthrie as president; Mrs. M. B. Wellington, first vice president; Mrs. H. J. Howard, second vice president; Mrs. Ray A. Dickinson, recording secretary; Mrs. J. C. Gardner, treasurer, and Miss Rowena Newcomb, corresponding secretary.

At the close, a gift was presented to Miss McFadden, who is just closing a three-year term as president and who has served in that capacity before, totalling about 10 years of service in that office for the organization. Speeches of appreciation were made by her retiring officers and Mrs. Guthrie, the new president, responded.

Plans were also made for the annual garden tour which will be held within the next two or three weeks, as soon as the weather permits. Mrs. Wellington is general chairman of the tour, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Wilson, chairman of Ebell garden section; Mrs. Fred Forgy, and Mrs. Ted Blanding.

Miss Mary Howard, Y. W. C. A. secretary, asks that any knowledge of garden that might be included in the tour notify her at the Y. W. office.

Present at last night's meeting were Miss McFadden and the Mesdames W. B. Williams, John Henderson, Hugh Gerrard, Fred Jayne, A. B. Jesse, Cotton Mather, and T. P. Douglas, members of the retiring board; the Mesdames Ray Dickinson, S. H. Finley, Dixon Guthrie, J. C. Gardner, C. F. Smith, Edith Thatcher, and M. B. Wellington, and the Misses Genevieve Humiston, Rowena Newcomb, and Vanora Plumb, members who remain on the board from last year; Mesdames Clyde Downing, Braden Finch, E. D. Froesche, Aubrey Glines, H. J. Howard, John McCoy, and Walter Spicer, newly-elected members of the board; and Miss Howard, Y. W. C. A. secretary, and Miss Mary Porter, Girl Reserves secretary.

NEW RESIDENTS HONOR GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Charlton, who have recently moved to 1908 Greenleaf street from Long Beach, recently entertained with an Easter buffet supper, honoring their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Byrd of Hamilton, Montana.

Crystal candelabra, yellow tapers, and yellow and orchid flowers made a pretty contrast to the pastel cloths on small tables at which were seated 16 guests from Long Beach.

At the conclusion of the supper, bridge was enjoyed, with ladies' first prize going to Mrs. Henry Martindale, and first for men going to Milton Byrd.

HELL'S HIGHWAY... French convicts swing their pick and shovels on "Hell's Highway" of French Guiana. Work on the stretch of road started about 50 years ago. To date just 15 miles have been completed. Twenty-four thousand convicts have died during the work—about a human life per yard completed!

POEM TOWN... Assembled in a social gathering in the 1880's, settlers of the as yet unnamed agricultural community of Enderby, British Columbia, listened to the reading of Jean Ingelow's romantic poem, "High Tide on the Coast of Lincolnshire, 1571."

So much did the audience admire the poem and its reference to "the Brides of Enderby" that they unanimously chose Enderby as the name of their town.

AGE CENSUS... On the face of reports issued by the U. S. Bureau of the Census for 1930, it would seem that American women should be forever cleared of the "age-hiding" stigma. Only 42,296 failed to have their ages listed as compared to 51,816 men.

Judge Stump

Dear Judge: Did you ever hear of a town where they actually rolled up the sidewalks at night?

G. B. W.

Yes, in my ancestral community of Fitznagle, Vt., the constable used to roll up the sidewalks every night. One day a couple of city slickers came to town, however, and, under pretense of making an inspection, nailed the sidewalks down. Since then the constable hasn't had time to roll them up at night. He's busy laying snares for those city fellows. He says nobody can make a monkey of his sidewalks and get away with it.
